

Private Clients

High-net-worth individuals and their families, and the owners of closely held businesses, have long trusted Greenbaum to protect their interests with creative guidance and solutions tailored to successfully meet their often-complex needs. We take a holistic approach to addressing our client's legal and financial interests, always balancing sound advice with the utmost confidentiality and sensitivity to family and interpersonal dynamics. Our representation of private clients is relationship-driven and well aligned with the interdisciplinary and collaborative nature of our practice. It is centered around the collective expertise of lawyers who handle family law matters, wealth management guidance, corporate and real estate transactions, employment issues, and related risk assessment, disputes and litigation.
