The program, presented by the New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education, will be held at the New Jersey Law Center and will also be available for online viewing.

Nothing is more important in a trial than presenting evidence. Yet, evidence skills can take years to master. This full-day program will feature a distinguished panel presentation designed to give litigators at all levels an opportunity to improve their evidence skills. Seminar topics will include a report from the Supreme Court Committee on the Rules of Evidence, evidence created by artificial intelligence and related ethical issues, the use of demonstrative evidence at trial, and recent issues and rulings of interest.

John focuses his practice in litigation, with an emphasis on trial practice. He has tried jury and non-jury cases in state and federal courts, including over 75 jury cases to verdict. He is certified by the Supreme Court of New Jersey as a Civil Trial Attorney. He is the author of the evidence treatise A Trial Lawyer's Strategic Guide to the New Jersey Rules of Evidence and is a principal author of Business and Commercial Litigation in Federal Courts, contributing the chapter in the treatise devoted to Medical Malpractice. He also contributed the chapter on statutory disclosure requirements in Winning Legal Strategies for Construction Law.
