

Federal Court Dismisses Constitutional Challenge to New Jersey's Telehealth Law

Greenbaum partner John W. Kaveney authored an article for Healthcare Perspectives, the firm's healthcare blog, about the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey's decision to dismiss a lawsuit claiming New Jersey's licensure requirements to offer healthcare via telemedicine in New Jersey was unconstitutional.

Read the blog post

Related Attorneys

A professional headshot of John W. Kaveney, a man with dark hair, wearing a dark suit jacket, a white shirt, and a yellow tie, smiling slightly. The background is a soft, out-of-focus light green and white.

John W. Kaveney
Partner
973.577.1796
Email