

Litigating and Arbitrating Construction Disputes: Tips, Tools and Strategies

Steven Nudelman, a partner in the firm's Litigation Department and Chair of the Construction Contracting & Risk Management Practice Group, will serve as a panelist for the live webinar, "Litigating and Arbitrating Construction Disputes: Tips, Tools and Strategies," to be presented by The Knowledge Group on Tuesday, May 4, 2021 from 12:00pm - 1:30pm.

Construction claims are considered as one of the most complex types of dispute. Because of its complexity, involved parties oftentimes choose between litigation and arbitration as a dispute resolution tool. However, as legal developments emerge and implications of the "new normal" proceedings reshape the litigation and arbitration landscapes, challenges faced by companies and practitioners also increase. This program will feature an in-depth discussion of construction dispute litigation and arbitration. Speakers will also discuss notable court rulings and will provide effective tips and strategies considering the evolving developments surrounding this topic.

Some of the major topics that will be covered include:

Mr. Nudelman concentrates his practice in construction law. For over 25 years he has represented members of the construction industry across a broad spectrum of matters. He has wide-ranging experience in construction litigation, representing clients in state and federal courts throughout the New Jersey/New York metropolitan area, as well as in local and international mediations and arbitrations. He has defended and asserted claims on behalf of owners, developers, condominium associations, general contractors, design professionals, subcontractors, vendors and sureties involved in public and private construction projects.
