

Navigating the Complex Business Litigation Program - A Bench-Bar Perspective

Dennis A. Estis, a partner in the firm's Litigation practice, will be a panelist for a presentation on "Navigating the Complex Business Litigation Program - A Bench-Bar Perspective" at the New Jersey State Bar Association's 2025 Annual Meeting and Convention. The program is scheduled for Wednesday, May 14 from 1:30pm - 3:00pm at the Borgata Hotel, Casino & Spa in Atlantic City.

The New Jersey Complex Business Litigation Program (CBLP) is a specialized program in the Superior Court to handle complex business, commercial and construction cases. The cases in the program are individually managed by judges with specialized training in complex litigation and are subject to special set of rules to help streamline pretrial proceedings. This seminar will explore the latest developments related to the CBLP, as well as strategies and guidance from experienced practitioners and the judges who handle the docket.

Dennis concentrates his practices on condominium and community association law and complex commercial litigation, with a particular focus on construction law, public entity law and alternative dispute resolution. His practice also encompasses real estate and business disputes and general equity matters. He has served as counsel to numerous condominiums and cooperatives, developers, New Jersey municipalities, and one of the major sewerage authorities in the state. He has served as an arbitrator and mediator for numerous private and public entities and has participated as both an advocate and as a neutral in hundreds of mediation proceedings. He is an American Arbitration Association trained mediator and arbitrator and sits on the AAA's national panel.
