

What YLS Wants to Know: Q&A with Experienced Family Lawyers

Frank A. Louis, a partner in the firm's Family Law Department, will be a panelist for the program "What YLS Wants to Know: Q&A with Experienced Family Lawyers," to be presented by the New Jersey State Bar Association on Tuesday, November 14, 2023, from 4:30pm - 6:00pm at the New Jersey Law Center in New Brunswick.

How can I get my spouse out of the house? My spouse moved out, can I change the locks? May I open a new bank account and put my income in the new account? This Q&A style seminar will help young family lawyers answer these and other questions that clients ask and that stump even the most seasoned attorneys at times. A panel of experienced attorneys will share their experiences from being young attorneys and what they have learned since so that young family lawyers know the answers to the toughest questions. The program is free and open to any NJSBA member who wants to learn about family law.

Mr. Louis concentrates his practice in the area of family law. He has over 45 years of extensive experience in negotiating and litigating economically complex divorce cases, representing clients in all aspects of divorce including asset distribution, child support and alimony. He has been broadly recognized by his peers as a preeminent member of the New Jersey family law bar. Mr. Louis is a Fellow of the American College of Family Trial Lawyers and the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers. He is the co-author of the treatise New Jersey Family Law Volume II: Divorce, Alimony & Property Division (Gann Law Books, 2023).
