

Healthcare Litigation

Disputes among the numerous stakeholders in the healthcare industry, with its complex regulatory framework, evolving business relationships and economic issues are unavoidable. Our healthcare litigation team has a wealth of experience in the forums in which these disputes are played out – in-house hospital hearing panels, administrative proceedings, arbitrations, and state and federal courts.

Our representation of clients in healthcare litigation includes disputes related to regulatory and reimbursement issues, contracts, business and real estate disputes, employment matters, allegations of federal antikickback statute, Stark Law, and False Claims Act violations, as well as the defense of claims related to professional negligence and ethics violations. Members of our team have expertise in hospital staff and physician privilege matters involving denial, suspension, or revocation of a physician's medical staff privileges, which may include issues involving physician competency, ethical conduct, or adherence to medical staff bylaws.
